Powerful Team Development

Understanding the Generations

As part of Leadersearch's mission to bring organizations the best tools and methodologies to impact bottom line and team success, we have designed and added to our workshop offerings, Bridging the Gap Between Boomers, Generation X'ers and Millennials in the Workplace.

The Workshop

Never before has there been more generations working together in organizations. Each generation has its own unique voices and views creating a potential for conflict in the workplace.

The purpose of this workshop is to help understand generational diversity and to provide businesses and organizations with strategies to better manage and work across the generations.

The Benefits

- Create awareness of the different generations, their traits and their motivators.
- Develop understanding around generational conflict; why it arises and how to decrease the negative effects.
- Leadership style is influenced by ones' generation. Discover how to tap into each unique style and motivate all generations.
- Identifying and creating an organizational succession plan.
- Increase talent attraction and retention in your workplace.
- Begin to identify Sage Leadership within your organization

A unique aspect of this workshop is that it was designed and often delivered by representatives of all three generations. Workshops can be half-day, one day, or two days in length. For maximum impact, purchase a coaching package for participants!
